Assessment and Management of Pain in Palliative Care Patients

The assessment and management of pain in cancer patients is of paramount importance in all stages of the disease however, pain is still not adequately treated. The challenges of cancer pain assessment and management are significant. Pain assessment must be thorough, with appropriate adjustments in treatment. The most appropriate treatment for cancer pain requires recognition, assessment, and management. The challenges of cancer pain assessment and management are discussed in detail in the book "Assessment and Management of Pain in Palliative Care Patients."