Ezra Pound and Dorothy Shakespear: Their Letters 1910-1914

Ezra Pound Dorothy Pound Omar S Pound A. Walton Litz

Ezra Pound and Dorothy Shakespear have been known for their significant contributions to modernist literature and art. Their letters, spanning from 1910 to 1914, provide a window into their literary and personal lives during this period. Ezra Pound, a key figure in the literary movement of the early 20th century, collaborated with Dorothy Shakespear, a poet and playwright, on various projects. Their correspondence offers insights into their shared artistic ideas and the development of their literary styles. The letters are a testament to their enduring friendship and their shared commitment to the avant-garde movement that characterized much of early 20th-century literature.
