
Eric Goosby

FRONTLINE for a film on AIDS in Black America, coming in 2012. In 1991, HIV/AIDS was still largely seen as a disease that affected gay men. And when you look back on it, a person living with HIV or anything, not just they can beat it they can survive they can live for a long time.